269 Macdonnell Road, Tamborine Mountain

The joy of Mountain life!

This light filled character home is of Scandinavian design built for a European couple that wanted a home of quality, whilst retaining the character that has become so highly sought after on the mountain. High ceilings, polish timber floors and a large entrance foyer to greet your visitors. Leading off the entrance is a formal living/dining room with cosy fireplace, this room can easily be transformed into an inviting study or library...you choose.

Open plan kitchen, dining and living space, makes an ideal informal space. The doorway off the dining room leads out onto the deck and outdoor entertainment area. Sitting outside in the morning sun will energise the soul and at the end of day will allow you to unwind and process your day.
