Step Back in Time - Circa 1897 Character Cottage

Esperance - Located in a sought-after area, this charming character home steeped in heritage history, has been lovingly restored to reflect its original build in 1897 by George Doust, head stockman for the prominent Dempster family.

Behind the classic white picket fence lies a delightful two-bedroom cottage where attention to detail is evident throughout. Period features have been carefully preserved, including original-style electrical light switches, sections of the original imported timbers brought to Esperance by ship in the early settlement days, along with beautiful timber doors and window surrounds. The home blends heritage charm with tasteful modern décor, thoughtfully chosen to replicate the elegance of
