A Home Built to Impress. A Lifestyle Built to Enjoy

Some homes are built to be lived in. Others are built to be admired. But every now and then, you find a home that does both, beautifully.

Welcome to 18 Ashford Street, Aveley, a Dale Alcock ex display home crafted with striking quality, thoughtful design and a sense of calm that you feel the moment you walk through the door.

The soaring cathedral ceiling, the wall of windows, the soft neutral palette everything here has been curated to create light, space and effortless elegance. French doors open to the verandah, tiles flow underfoot, and every angle feels warm and inviting.

The kitchen is a centrepiece of the home, finished with Caesarstone benchtops, a generous breakfast bar, a café
