Near-New, No Body Corporate, One Minute to

For buyers who want modern Seaford living but still care about space, light and finish, 2B McKenzie Street feels a level above the standard townhouse. The three-level layout has been intentionally designed with open-plan living on the ground floor, secondary bedrooms and a retreat/study on the first floor, and a private main suite above it all. It gives the home more usable space, better separation and a stronger sense of privacy than buyers usually find in low-maintenance living.

The light is another clear advantage. High ceilings, oversized double-glazed windows and wide sliding doors create a sense of volume throughout the home, while the north-facing living zone opens directly to the alfresco, bringing natural light into the space buyers will use most.
