Distinctive Round Design Meets Dual-Living

Rarely does a property come along that truly stands apart, and 13 Turner Street is exactly that.

Built from solid double brick in a striking round design, this unique home offers versatile living across two levels — ideal for families, professionals working from home, or those simply seeking something different from the everyday. The house is designed for superior energy efficiency and makes it easier to maintain a stable indoor temperature.

Freshly painted inside and out across both residences, the property presents beautifully and is ready to move straight into.

Positioned less than 1km from New England Girls' School, Armidale Secondary College, and Martins Gully Public
