A Home That Rises Above -

Some homes stand confidently from the street - elevated, striking, and impossible to overlook. This 4x2 executive residence does exactly that. With its standout façade, aggregate driveway, and beautifully raised front yard, it sets the tone from the moment you arrive: this is modern living, refined.

Step inside and the feeling continues. High ceilings, stone finishes, and a light filled open design create a sense of calm sophistication, a home built for people who value quality, comfort, and effortless style.

This is where busy professionals unwind, families gather, and every detail is finished to a high specification.

A Lifestyle of Comfort & Connection

The heart of the home is its modern open plan living zone
