"Yallambee" & "Rangeview" - A Versatile Farming & Grazing Aggregation

Approximately 2,169 Acres (877 Hectares) | Cassilis, NSW - Available as one aggregation or in two separate holdings. Located in the highly regarded Coolah/Cassilis district, "Yallambee" and "Rangeview" present an opportunity to secure a well-established and productive mixed farming and grazing aggregation.

Comprising approximately 2,169 acres (877 hectares), these adjoining properties have been operated together for many years, with the different types of country complementing one another to create a versatile agricultural operation.

The real strength of this aggregation is its versatility. From the highly productive black basalt farming country and fertile river flats of Yallambee through to the undulating red and black basalt grazing country of Rangeview, the properties offer a genuine balance between cropping, breeding, backgrounding and finishing livestock.
